PREFACE

On presenting this second annual volume of the Naumkeag Directory, the publishers would again thank their patrons, and all others who have contributed to the success of the book. As last year, separate directories have been issued for the cities of Salem and Beverly, and for the towns of Danvers, Marblehead, Peabody and Ipswich, thus enabling the residents of these places to secure a directory at a nominal price.

The publishers have again extended their territory, including Ipswich in this volume, as no directory of this town had been published for several years, and requests from many patrons induced the publishers to add it to the already complete Naumkeag.

It will be found that the directory is as complete and up-to-date as formerly, and no expense has been spared to make it worthy of the support which it has received, all the cities and towns having favored it with a generous patronage.

Owing to increased size of the book, it has been found necessary to make some abbreviations, and patrons will find that in case of names of single women, the word "Miss" has been eliminated.

Below will be found the table of names contained in the directory together with deaths and removals, and the number of changes and corrections necessary on this year's canvass. When it is considered that the smallest towns show changes amounting to between 55% and 60%, and Salem over 60%, it is not necessary to call attention to the amount of labor required to make the book complete, or the fact that a yearly directory is an acknowledged necessity.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, SALEM.

This School was opened Sept. 12, 1854. It was the fourth normal school established by the State of Massachusetts, and is one of the oldest in the country. Richard Edwards, L. L. D., was Principal three years. Prof. Alpheus Crosby, eight years. Daniel B. Hagar, Ph. D., thirty-one years. Walter P. Beckwith, Ph. D., ten years. The present principal began service January 30, 1906. The regular course of study occupies two years. Advanced courses are offered for graduates of Colleges and normal schools, and teachers of experience. Tuition and text books are free. Pecuniary aid is given to needy pupils. The Normal School building, cor. Broad and Summer streets was dedicated Sept. 14, 1854, and was remodelled in 1871. The fine new school building at the corner of Lafayette street and Loring avenue was dedicated Jan. 26, 1897.

Principal—J. Asbury Pitman. Assistants—Harriet L. Martid, Jessie P. Leary, Charles E. Adams, Charles F. Whitney, William C. Moore, M. Alice Warren, Isabella G. Knight, Gertrude B. Goldsmith, Fannie B. Deane, Sarah L. Baker, Helen H. Rogers, Cassie L. Paine, Fred W. Archibald, Maud Oldham.

SALEM NICKNAMES.

Salem is unusually 'prolific in local nomenclature. There is hardly a lane or alley, hill or hollow, which has not borne some nickname more or less appropriate at some period of its history. In this age of directories such names become lost, giving place to the recognized title.

All down town, below Pleasant street, was formerly known as Wapping, so named from Wapping in London.

North Salem was christened Pigeonville, and many still call it North Fields, a later title.

Castletonville, now nicknamed Nauvoo, was a locality where Winthrop and Endicott streets now are. A man named Joe Smith built a house there about the same time that Joe Smith the Mormon, settled Nauvoo.

Roast meat hill, applied to the rising ground back of High street.

Knocker's hole was in the vicinity of Mill and Margin streets. There was a shipyard there in the last century.

Button hole was near the jail, and the Button hole toughs used to have fights with the Knocker's hole gang.

Vinegar hill was on Broad street.

Circus lane is now Hathorne street, the fields out that way being let years ago for circus performances.

Liberty hill is in North Salem, off Appleton street. There was a little picnic ground there years ago and quite a story could be written of its history.

Buffum's corner was at the junction of Boston and Essex streets, named after a Buffum who kept store there about 150 years ago.

Neck-gate denoted the end of Derby street.

Blubber hollow was from Federal to Goodhue street, also known as Town bridge.

Johnny Cake hill stood between Blubber hollow and the big tree on Boston street.

Carltonville is a section of North Salem on Mason street.

From the big tree to the Peabody burying ground was called Trask's plain.

The Nubble was a locality near the Peabody burying ground.

Goose lane ran from Federal to Fowler street.

Lovers' lane was off Tremont street.

Plank alley was a part of Elm street between Charter and Essex.

Baptist hill, in the rear of Federal street, named from the First Baptist Church, now called Odell square. They used to baptize in a pond near by.

Gallows hill, in the rear of Boston street, the scene of the Witchcraft executions of 1692 is too well known to require anything beyond mere mention. As also the town pastures and Castle hill, which still hold their names.

Creek street is so named because it is built over what was a creek, but is now culverted over.

School house lane was the early name given Washington street, afterward Court street.

"Nahum Keike," or Naumkeag, was the original Indian name for North river.

Federal street was so named in 1766, as an indication of the united feeling, in favor of something better than an eight-foot way along the North River. The portion from Washington to North was previously called Marlborough street; and the eastern portion County street.

Old Paved street was the name of Essex between Washington and North for many years, it being paved about 1773. King street and Main street are also names which have been applied to Essex street.

Peabody Business Directory

Peabody is a large and prosperous town situated two miles from Salem and eighteen miles from Boston, and is intimately related to Salem in all its social and industrial interests. It is connected with Salem, Boston, Lynn and other centres by different branches of the Boston & Maine railroad. It is also connected with surrounding places by the Boston & Northern Street Railway. It has many and varied industries, the most important being the tanning, currying and finishing of hides and sheep skins, glue making, cloth bleaching, machine shops, thermometer manufactory, etc. The Peabody Institute affords admirable literary advantages, having two libraries, the reference library being of extensive scope, and a course of free lectures is given every winter. These facilities, with the excellent schools of the town, render the educational advantages of peculiar value. It has an ample water supply (high service), from the beautiful Spring Pond, and an electric light plant established by the town. It has a population of thirteen thousand, its people are full of enterprise and spirit, and its facilities for extensive manufacturing are unsurpassed.
